Others will take advantage of the long weekend to bring their families together and share in the retelling of the most significant experience in Christian history. The season will bring to mind St. Paul's statement in I Corinthians 15: ". . . how that Christ died for our sins according to Scriptures; And that he was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures . . . O grave, where is thy victory? . . . thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Secretary Instructed To Prepare Amendments To Closing Regulations

LAC LA BICHE — Town council met the evening of April 10 to deal with a large volume of business of various kinds.

Four applications for building permits were given approval and one was held until the applicant could be interviewed about some of the details. One permit was for construction of a new home to cost $10,000, and two permits involved repairs and renovations to existing dwellings to cost $1,000 each. A third was for a private garage to cost $300.

First reading was given a by-law authorizing the taking of the census of the town. The undertaking will be completed before May 10.

The Secretary was instructed to invite the town's consulting engineers to the next meeting of Council to assist with preparation of plans for water and sewer system expansions.

Authority was given the Sea Cadet committee to construct a rifle range for use of the Sea Cadet Corps. The construction will be under the supervision of an experienced man and will meet the most rigid safety requirements.

A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce was present to ask that the Thursday closing by-law be changed to Monday. After much discussion on the subject, the Secretary was instructed to prepare amendments to existing regulations so as to do away with Thursday closing. This would leave the matter of closing with the merchants themselves. No date has been set for a change to take affect.

Councillors McMillan, Bouvier, Wolstenholme, Vincent, Shanks and Badry were present for the meeting, as well as Mayor Maccagno and Secretary Creighton.

CALGARY POWER LTD:

Power Plants On Athabasca River Feasible, Says Report

The feasibility of locating a series of five plants on the Athabasca River, between the towns of Athabasca and Fort McMurray, has been confirmed by recent studies of Calgary Power Ltd. In its annual report, the company said that studies are in progress on the water power potential of the reach of the Athabasca River and its tributary, the Lesser Slave River.

Investigations were made some years ago of the area by the Alberta Power Commission, the Water Resources Branch of the provincial government and Calgary Power Ltd. The results of present studies confirm the feasibility of locating a series of five plants on the Athabasca River, capable of producing 2,000,000 h.p. The development of this project lends itself to development by stages which would match the growth of load anticipated in the growing requirements for electric energy in the province.

The directors of Calgary Power Ltd., in their annual report noted that the company's electric load for the year totalled 2,243 million kilowatt hours, an increase of 10.3 per cent over that of 1960. During the past five years the annual rate of load growth has averaged 10.9 per cent. Although this reflects a downward trend during 1961, the company's construction program is geared to meet the maximum growth that may occur.

Construction of a new plant over the past year resulted in an increase of 21 million dollars. Most of this increase was the result of expenditure on the 150,000 kilowatt, coal-fired extension to the Wabamun steam plant, associated installation of coal treating and handling plant, and the opening of the nearby strip coal mine. The latter includes a two million dollar, 1,700 ton walking dragline which will begin stripping operations in the coal field this year.

The report states that gross revenue from operations amounted to $28,112,721, an increase of $2,440,941 over the preceding year. Consolidated operating expenses, depreciation and income taxes amounted to $18,552,008, an increase of $1,642,912 over those of 1960. Part of this increase was the result of a new tax enacted by the province in April, 1961, which applies to pipelines and electric power systems.

This new tax was effective from July 1, 1961 and amounted to $426,096 for the year 1961 and is expected to be more than double this amount for 1962. "Earnings retained for use in the business," amounted to $4,199,716 after the payment of dividends to the shareholders.

Referring to future developments, the report touches on plans for the Wabamun plant. The conversion of the two existing 55,000 kilowatt gas-fired units to coal burning will cost $1,600,000 each. This conversion will not take place, however, until such time as the load has grown to a point where savings in fuel cost, through the use of coal, justifies the expenditure for further coal handling equipment. A fourth unit has been ordered for the plant and is tentatively planned for commissioning in 1966. By that time the company considers that the Wabamun plant would meet growing base load requirements for the next eight or ten years, and the company's coal reserves would seem adequate for the expected life of the plant. A number of alternative sources for base load power, including both hydro and thermal plants, would be open to the company and some of these have already been investigated.

The report refers to the Brazeau project where the initial storage works are now nearing completion. Water was made available through the the critical months of the past winter, adding substantially to the flow of the North Saskatchewan River through Edmonton. Although the Brazeau river was some years ahead of its time in being developed for power production alone, there was an immediate need for the construction of the initial storage works in order to assist in controlling river pollution in the Edmonton area. This was undertaken by Calgary Power Ltd. on behalf of the Government of Alberta. Work will begin soon on the installation of the first 150,000 kilowatt generating unit and associated works tentatively scheduled for completion in 1964 at a cost to the company of $25,000,000. Other similar sized units can be added as needed at an estimated cost of $9,000,000 each.

The individual who expects the world to conform to his or her ideas is doomed to disappointment.

Wood Buffalo Park Nesting Ground For Whooping Cranes, Says Fimrite

"The Wood Buffalo Park, an immense area of 17,300 square miles, was established in 1922 as a sanctuary for the last remaining herd of wood buffalo," said A. O. Fimrite, MLA, in a private member's motion address in the Legislature recently.

Mr. Fimrite continued, "This herd was later increased by releasing in the park several thousand plains buffalo from Wainwright National Park. In the years 1925 to 1929, more than six thousand buffalo were loaded into box cars and transported to Waterways, Alberta. There they were driven into scows and floated down the Athabasca and Slave Rivers and turned loose in the Wood Buffalo Park. Many of the imported buffalo died like flies, but a good percentage adjusted. The two breeds mixed, multiplied and produced the impressive hybrid buffalo, ranging in weight up to 2,500 pounds.

"The herd has now increased from less than 1500 to over 20,000 head. The buffalo do not range over the whole of the park but seem to prefer the portion east of the 113th line of the west longitude and south of the Northwest Territories. In other words the buffalo favor the east half of the area.

"The area has become famous in recent years as the nesting ground for the last flock of whooping cranes. These birds nest along the Alberta-Northwest Territories border in the more westerly part of the park. Aircraft are forbidden to fly over the immediate area when the birds are in residence.

"Before proceeding with the resolution, I would like to have it understood that the original purpose of the park must be protected. The area could be designated as a "Buffalo Preserve" under strict provincial game management. The whooping cranes nest near the Alberta border and should continue to be protected. However, this should not be difficult as their nesting ground is known. The park is so vast that the preservation of the buffalo and the whooping cranes does not present any insurmountable problem.

"We have now covered the purposes for which the park was established. The buffalo are now so numerous thot a big round-up has been staged by aircraft since 1955. The buffalo are driven into a large enclosure and as high as 500 have been slaughtered for meat in a single kill. The meat is processed and properly inspected in a modern abbatoir, then offered for sale, chiefly in the north. Some of the meat is distributed to Indians, when their food supplies run low.

"How does the Wood Buffalo Park differ from the other national parks? I am going to say that the area should never have been set up as a national park in the first place, but simply should have been set aside as a game preserve, under provincial administration and game regulations. This would make possible a program of orderly development. At the present time the Wood Buffalo Park is just like another province within Alberta. The park is isolated from the rest of Alberta, except by air and water transportation, for four and a half months in summer. I would suggest that the park might also be protected under the Act established in 1959, known as "An Act to Establish the Wilderness Provincial Park."

"This Act would allow limited development of the natural resources and at the same time hold the province responsible for protection of these resources. Also the management, conservation and preservation of the natural beauty of the area to be maintained for the enjoyment of future generations. This could best be accomplished under provincial legislation.

"It is interesting to note that the buffalo herd has spilled over far north of the park into the Northwest Territories. Some game experts believe that a game management program is all that is required to protect buffalo in the future. In 1959 it was estimated that the buffalo herd outside Wood Buffalo Park in the Northwest Territories numbered over three thousand head. The Federal Government set up buffalo hunting regulations. In 1961 the number of licenses issued to big game hunters has been increased to one hundred licenses to hunt buffalo during the fall season outside the park.

"The Wood Buffalo Park differs from other national parks due to the fact that it does not lend itself as a tourist attraction. I have talked to people who have visited the area on business and they say that it is not scenic, except from the air, along the Peace River. The Mighty Peace, after travelling over one thousand miles, has spent itself and becomes sluggish and loses its course — the beautiful high banks of the Peace are no longer evident. Prairie land which covers perhaps one half of the area is thick with buffalo food, wheat grasses higher than a man's head, wild oats, brome, wild rye, vetch and pea vine and large stands of timber to the south and east. There are salt licks fifteen foot across. This is truly a buffalo paradise. In flying over the other half, one observes cold mossy bogs, runty trees and bleak stretches of rock, hint of the artic, and there is perma-frost too. How does this description sound like a tourist attraction? However, do not get the impression that the immense area is of no value, in fact the park may one day add a great deal to the economy of this province. Let me hasten to add that there is little land suitable for agriculture. The wealth will come from minerals, forests and other natural resources.

A. O. FIMRITE, M.L.A.

"First, let us establish how much of the park is located in the Province of Alberta. The Wood Buffalo Park straddles the Northwest Territories-Alberta border like a giant carpenter's square! It is 176 miles long and the average width is 100 miles wide. Total area is 17,300 square miles, of which 13,675 square miles are within Alberta. Two-thirds of the park is within Alberta.

"The park is larger than one of our Canadian provinces (Prince Edward Island). By way of comparison, all of Canada's seventeen other national parks could be tucked comfortably into this vast area known as the "Wood Buffalo Park." Alberta has turned over too much land to the Federal Government and should not relinquish another acre until this whole question is settled. Most Albertans have no idea of the size of the area that was turned over for federal park purposes, with little thought of the future. The Canadian Government apparently under-estimates the potential of the area by seemingly hiding its potential, allowing it to remain in isolation (except by plane) for all but the summer months. However, I want to be fair and do not propose to quarrel with the Federal Government! Under existing legislation, with respect to national parks, development of the natural resources by the Federal Government is prohibited. I wish to quote from Section 14, Transfer Agreement of Natural Resources from the Dominion Government to the Province, 1930: "but in the event of the Parliament of Canada at any time declares that the said lands or any part thereof are no longer required for park purposes, the land, minerals (precious and base) and the royalties incident thereto specified, or any such declared, shall forthwith upon the taking thereof, belong to the province."

"It is at this point that I would urge the Federal Government to return to the Province of Alberta, control and ownership of the Wood Buffalo Park, lying within its borders.

1. The original purpose of the park could still be served by designating the area as a "Buffalo Preserve" under game management.

2. It would make possible the orderly development of forest and mineral wealth for the people of Alberta and the Canadian economy.

"We have some known natural resources within the park where limited development should be allowed, without interfering too much with the game we want to protect. It is also possible that there may be large mineral deposits still unknown, as there has been no prospecting to date within the park.

"First, let us review what is known. The principal known mineral is gypsum, which outcrops at Peace Point on the Peace River, fifty miles above the junction of the Peace and Slave Rivers, which appears to be most suitable for commercial development. The relatively pure gypsum of this deposit is exposed in cliffs up to sixty feet above the level of the river. The thin over-burden would make quarrying the gypsum an inexpensive operation. In 1917 Dr. Charles Camsell estimated the size of the deposit to be 217,000,000 tons. In 1930 Dr. E. A. Cameron examined the deposits and stated that five times Dr. Camsell's estimate would still be conservative. I recently learned that in 1957 a Winnipeg company (Gypsum Lime & Alabastine Company) undertook a geological survey of the area. The report has not been published. There is a market for the gypsum, but since it is located within the park it could not be developed under existing law.

"There are large stands of ripe timber in the park, reported to be 260 years old. The National Parks Board have sold to private companies 1,500,000,000 board feet of ripe timber. This was disposed of under a sanitation regulation that applies to national parks. The timber berths were sold to half a dozen companies for $7.20 per thousand, later reduced by $2.00 and now to a low price of $1.00 per thousand, for five years. The production last year (most recent figures) January 1 to December 31, 1961, was 13,079,730 FBM. I understand the majority of sales went to eastern U.S. and Toronto areas. The lumber is shipped by barge to

Sales of Natural Gas Decline, Northwestern Utilities Report

Sales of natural gas by Northwestern Utilities, Limited declined in 1961 for the first time in 10 years, the company's annual report to shareholders said today.

While residential and commercial consumption increased by 545 million cubic feet, sales to industry were down 745 milion cubic feet from the previous year. Total sales were nearly 54 billion cubic feet, compared with 54.2 bilion cubic feet in 1960.

"The decrease in 1961 arises solely from a decrease in use by certain major customers," the report says. "Our studies indicate that this trend will be reversed in 1962 and we are forecasting increased industrial sales for the coming year."

On the question of gas rates the report said:

"There was no change in the company's rate schedules in 1961. The rates charged our customers remain among the lowest on the North American continent.

"The company's studies indicate that barring eventualities beyond its control, and despite contractual increases which must be paid for gas supplies in the future its customers can anticipate a period of rate stability for the next several years."

In 1961 the company added 5,037 customers for a total at the end of the year of 98,716. Rocky Mountain House, Eckvile and Clive were provided with gas service during the year, to bring the number of communities served to 75.

Gross revenue, after adjustment, was $17,943,000, an increase of about one per cent over 1960. Net income was up $26,000 to $2,925,000. Total investment in property, plant, gas wels and equipment, excluding intangibles, was $68,291,000 at the year's end.

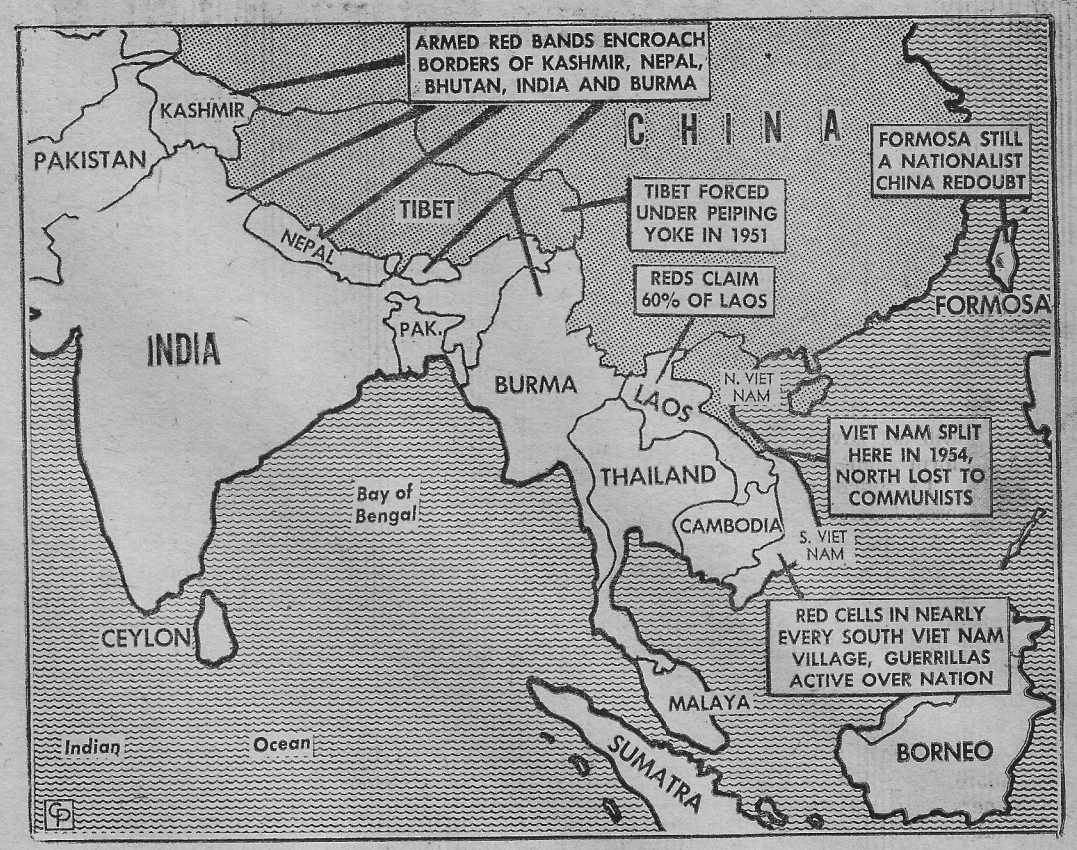
Recoverable natural gas reserves in fields connected to the company's system were estimated at the end of 1961 to be 2,487 billion cubic feet. Last year the company acquired over 51,000 acres of natural gas leases in various areas. The company will continue its efforts to acquire additional reserves which geographically fall within its general service territory.

The report stresses the importance of industrial load in maintaing low gas rates. It goes on to say:

"Proposals have been made for the marketing, by others, of substan- large industrial customers now served by the company. Market raiding of this nature can only have the effect of reducing system load factors and increasing unit costs with the inevitable result of increased gas rates.

"Sales to industrial users are a most important factor in maintaining rates as low as possible to all classes of customers. Were it not for the major industrial load the portion of the company's fixed and operating costs properly chargeable to industry would have to be carried by residential and commercial consumers."

Capital additions and improvements totalled $2,578,000 in 1961. The company estimates capital additions in 1962 at about $2,800,000 and expects the number of customers will increase by some 5,400 this year.



'PROGRESS REPORT'—The National People's Congress scheduled for late this month in Peiping has a review of Communist progress in Southeast Asia on its agenda, and from the looks of this map, the subject can provide plenty to talk about. Communism must win by force of arms, Peiping has been telling Moscow.

THE Homemaker

District Home Economist, Westlock
By Bertha M. McCutcheon

For professional looking homemade Hot Cross Buns follow these suggestions by the Poultry Products Institute. After buns are shaped be sure to place them far enough apart on the pan so that they will rise evenly. If too crowded they will not have a uniform shape.

B. McCutcheon

To make a neat cross on the top, form the cross from narrow strips of dough and stick in place with a bit of raw egg white.

For a nice shiny brown surface on the buns brush tops, before baking with a mixture of raw egg and water.

EASTER EGG BASKETS

Small square plastic or fibre board containers, in which fruit and some vegetables are sold, make handy Easter egg containers. Thread pastel colored ribbons through the openings on the sides, fill boxes with shredded colored cellophane, waxed paper or foil and arrange colored hard-cooked eggs on top. These filled baskets make a colorful table centrepiece when several are pyramided on shredded cellophane and surrounded with little toy chickens or bunnies.

JELLY EASTER EGGS

Make jelly Easter eggs for a novel salad or dessert to accompany the Easter turkey dinner.

Save egg shells until the required number have been accumulated. However, instead of breaking eggs as usual for the morning scramble or cake or cookied batter, make a small hole in the large end of the egg about the size of a quarter or slightly larger. Shake egg carefully into a bowl and the yolk will sip out whole. Rinse inside of shell thoroughly and let dry. When ready to use, oil the inside with salad oil and with a small funnel fill shells with jelly. Finely shredded cabbage and carrot and a little onion juice may be added to lime or lemon jelly for a salad or if making a dessert the jelly may be left plain or finely diced fruit may be added. Set filled shells in empty egg cartons and refrigerate until set. Carefully crack shells and peel off. Arrange salad eggs on shredded lettuce or grated carrot and garnish with salad dressing. Arrange dessert jelly eggs on bed of coconut and top with whipped cream. For a jewel-like array make up several different flavors of commercial jelly powders in the egg shapes.

McMurray-Waterways CWL Will Sponsor High School May Queen

McMURRAY — The McMurray-Waterways CWL held its monthly meeting in the old mission, with 25 members present. President Mrs. R. Theriault was in the chair.

Reports were given on past months activities by active committees. On a suggestion from President Mrs. R. Theriault it was unanimously decided to take the name of St. John's Parish Council of McMurray and Waterways for the local CWL.

Plans were made to hold the spring bazaar in the church basement hall on Saturday, April 23. A committee of five ladies, with Mrs. J. Chichak in charge, was named to look after bazaar preparations.

It was decided to again sponsor the May Queen, who will be crowned at the May 11 dance in the auditorium, sponsored by the CMA. Candidates for May Queen will be three high school students, chosen by the students. The sum of $50 was voted for prizes and corsages for the May Queen and runners-up.

Mrs. G. Strandberg gave her report as a delegate to the cancer workshop, which she attended in Edmonton. Mrs. H. Demers volunteered to take charge of the cancer drive for funds, with volunteer help from each section of the town.

Pastor Rev. Fr. Brown gave an interesting talk on parliamentary procedure of meetings and also played an interesting spiritual recording. A nominating committee was named to procure names of candidates for the annual election of officers.

A lunch was served by Mrs. A. A. Lawrence, Mrs. E. D. Harpe and Mrs. J. Krevitzer.

4-H Club Members Sold At Auction

Comical Fashion Show Intrigues Audience At Two Hills Variety Show

A successful Variety Night, sponsored by the Two Hills 4-H Clothing Club, was held recently at the Two Hills Elks Hall. The program included entertaining items, including a comical fashion show in which model Olivia Soldan represented Nehru of India; Sharon Sakaluk was Kkrumah of Ghana.... and last was Norma Ferguson who impersonated Ed Motowylo.

A comical Easter Hat Parade featured the following: Iris Teresio wore a feather-mop hat and her accessories consisted of measuring-spoons for earrings. Elaine Nikiforuk wore a large size Lux Box hat and chore-girls earrings and carried a pail for her purse. Norma Ferguson modelled a mop for her hat, plastic pail for a purse and wore light colored garden gloves. Sonia Yuzda chose a pie-plate trimmed with wieners for her hat and wore a paper-cup bracelet; Sandra Kuzio wore a hot-water bottle hat and chose asperin bottle-top earrings with ice-cube plastic containers for her necklace.

Delores Nikiforuk modelled a "Calendar trimmed with flowers" hat, a tea-towel stole and oven-mitts for gloves. Kalens Hanushewsky wore a "sewing basket" hat with a matching "sewing basket" purse and a necklace made of mixed colors of spools of thread.

Rose Marie Fedoruk wore a "throw cushion hat" and accessories of a cushion purse and fancy bedroom slippers. Sharon Sakaluk "Miss Leghorn" wore an "egg-tray" hat, egg cleaner for necklace and an egg-basket for her matching purse.

Olivia Soldan modelled a "lamp-shade" purse.

Shirley Andriowski modelled a popular Red coat and wore a plain black net for her hat with a black purse. Miss June Soldan was the commentator.

In another comical item, Sonia Yuzda demonstrated a method of baking bread which required kneading (with her knees) and whole eggs with shells put into the batter. Iris Teresio also did a comical interpretation of mixing a fruit cake.

The musical numbers were: mandolin duet by Iris Teresio and June Soldan, accompanied by Delores Nikiforuk playing the washboard with a clothes pin; Kalena Hanushiwsky and Sonia Yuzda sang "Just Between You and Me."

The highlight of the evening was the slave auction in which each member of the club was sold to the highest bidder "to work for a day." Doing such tasks as washing windows, house-cleaning, baking, hairdressing and gardening.

Selling prices ranged from 50c to $3. The following slaves were purchased: Rose Marie Fedoruk and Delores Nikiforuk by Metro Iftody; Iris Teresio and Norma Ferguson by Mike Pawliuk; Olivia Soldan and Elaine Nikiforuk by Andy Onusko; Kaline Hanushewsky by Mrs. Olga Chonko; Sandra Kuzia by Alex Rosychuk; Sonia Yuzda by Mrs. Anne Yuzda; June Soldan by Mrs. Kristin Tymko; Sharon Sakaluk by Ed Teresio and Shirley Andriowsky by William Fushtey.

After the sale the girls of the 4-H Clothing Club served tea, cookies and doughnuts. They each brought a dozen of cookies which they had baked and Mrs. Yuzda, proprietor of the Two Hills Beneda's Bakery, donated the doughnuts.

Agricultural Society Builds Barns For Fair

VERMILION — In keeping with a policy set down by the Vermilion Agricultural Society to provide first class accommodations for exhibits, a new hog barn is under construction on the Vermilion fair grounds.

Located just northwest of the new $264,000 stadium, the new barn is the first of a series of buildings which will eventually result in a complete switch of the present layout of grounds and buildings. It is planned to move the showrings to the west side of the stadium and to construct an up-to-date horse barn.

Cattle exhibits will be housed in the stadium building itself, provision having been made for complete stanchion arrangements for tying.

For the current exhibition season the stalls for light horses will remain at their present location at far west end of the grounds, but eventually will be removed and replaced along the right-of-way of the Canadian National Railway. This is north of the new building sites. Within the next year or two farm machinery exhibits will be located in the east end of the grounds and midway facilities established west and south of the grandstand.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THE ANSWER IS GOD

"There is where I got my education," said a recent college graduate as he pointed to the campus prayer chapel. "After weeks of constant worry and failing grades, I decided to withdraw from school. I was on my way to the dean's office when I stopped in the chapel—more to pour out self-pity than to pray. But the Scripture above the door caught my eye, 'He shall teach you all things.' It made a deep impression in my heart, and I decided to give college another try—this time with God's help."

The most important part of the young man's education was learned in the prayer chapel. He found the answer to all life's problems and needs—God.

God is not the easy way out of difficulties; but He steps in beside you and leads you through them. Things have a way of turning in the right direction when you look to God.

As your path is channeled toward Him, His strength becomes yours. Your fears and worries are replaced by steadfast faith and constant peace. You needn't fear the outcome of a trying problem or trial, for with God as your teacher, the Bible as your textbook and prayer as your subject, the perfect answer will be yours.

You can learn a lot from reading the Bible and hearing the Word of God preached. But it will never do you the least bit of good unless you practice what you have learned and apply it to your everyday life. It isn't what you know—it is what you do that counts.

The lesson that Christ teaches is as easy as simple arithmetic. His formula for happiness and abundant life is: ask, believe and receive. Whatever your need may be—salvation, healing, strength, peace, joy, encouragement—He will supply your every need if you will but ask Him. Then believe. Have faith and trust Him. Lay your worries to one side. He understands your problems and needs. He knows what is best for you. Accept His answer and receive the blessings and goodness of His love. All that Christ has can be yours. He wants you to enjoy life and good health.

Christ is the answer to every problem of life. Nothing is too hard for Him or too unimportant. Abundant life can be yours today if you will only ask, believe and receive.

Lorna Woods models safety equipment to be shown at Industrial Accident Prevention Association conference in Toronto, April 16-17. Earmuffs over earphones, designed by the national research council, are gaining acceptance in industry for minimizing high frequency noises such as those made by turbines.

Science Reduces Pride Of The Musk-deer

Pity the poor male musk-deer.

The function that made him world-famous has been stolen by, of all the humiliating things, the lowly fungi grown on corn smut.

Until the present, the small hornless deer of Central Asia could take pride in the fact that musk-scent, an odiferous reddish-brown substance secreted from a gland of the musk-deer, was an essential stabilizer for perfume. Women of the world clamored for these perfume products, and drove prices higher than gold.

Now, however, gold and the musk-deer will be left alone on their own price levels, for the Japanese have come up with a synthetic process which will enable an equivalent scent stabilizer to be marketed at about one-twentieth of the previous cost.

The Japanese government's Fermentation Research Institute is credited with "an outstanding technical development in learning how to apply a fermentation process to produce the scent stabilizing substance from the abundant supplies of fungi grown on corn smut.

Although the substance is still available in only limited quantities, the achievement is being hailed by everybody connected with the perfume industry on the other side of the Pacific, except perhaps the poor male musk-deer.

Whooping Cranes Nesting In Wood Buffalo Park

Waterways, for rail shipment to Edmonton. Up to 400.000 feet of lumber is loaded on a single barge. The company reported that because of the great distance and isolation, the operation is still border-line at the low price of $1.00 per thousand. Employees, wherever possible, are local Indian labor. Companies manufacturing lumber, say development roads, are essential and would help their operation. I suggest two such roads for a start, one from Waterways north to the park. The other from High Level on the Mackenzie Highway east into the heart of the park. This would also connect with the new railway to be built to Pine Point. These roads would help to reduce the high cost of bringing in supplies by aircraft.

"Also worthy of mention is the fishing industry on Lake Claire. Goldeyes are flown by the thousands of pounds to grace the tables of cities in Western Canada. The reported catch on Lake Claire is from 60,000 to 105,000 pounds per year. However, I was told that this could be substantially increased if a refrigeration plant were installed at the lake. As a result of biological study of lakes within the park, a quota of 250.000 pounds annual harvest of Goldeyes might be set on a sustained yield.

"There is a possibility that oil and gas may be found in the extreme south-west section of the park area. The knowledge will remain unknown until exploration is permitted in the area. Many prospectors would like to prospect for base metals in the eastern section of the park. The Athabasca and Slave Rivers form most of the eastern boundaries of the park. To the east of these rivers is the Alberta portion of the Precambrian Shield and to the west of the rivers is the Paleozoic Rocks outcrop. It is in the similar outcropping of the Paleozoic Rocks that lead zinc deposits were found at Pine Point on the south shore of Great Slave Lake. It is possible that other similar mineral deposits may occur along the west bank of the Slave River. This is the thinking of qualified men who have given special study to the area.

"There is also the possibility that there are large deposits of uranium in the area. A game warden is reported to have taken a gieger counter to satisfy his own interests and according to reliable reports he discovered a very strong reaction. To put it in his own words "the gieger counter crackled like grease in a hot pan!"

"And finally, the Wood Buffalo Park is part of the Province of Alberta. This immense area which is known to be rich in natural resources should be developed for the good of our people. The wealth will funnel through our capital city and will strengthen the economy of the province. The Federal Government intends to do an aeromagnetic survey of the Alberta Precambrian area in the current year, with the Provincial Government paying one-half of the cost. The understanding at the time this arrangement was made was that the Federal Government would include a survey of the eastern section of the Wood Buffalo Park. It is now understood that the Federal Government has delayed the aeromagnetic survey of the park until 1965. I suggest that the transfer to the province of the Wood Buffalo Park should take place before 1935.

"Mr. Speaker, in conclusion I am not saying that enough land has been set aside for national park purposes in Canada. Our population is increasing fast and wilderness areas are being reduced. What Canada needs is an overall plan for national parks and a definition of what a national park is. The lack of such a plan is presently retarding progress, giving our people a false feeling of security in setting aside adequate park areas for future generations. Having set aside thousands of square miles in the northeast portion of our province, isolated and far removed from centres of population. This can be meaningless. Especially when the area does not lend itself for park purposes. If we are looking for a beautiful area for a national park, I would strongly recommend the area 30 miles southwest of Grande Prairie in the Province of British Columbia, known as the Monkman Pass Route. The Chamber of Commerce in the north has strongly supported a new national park in this area. This is a mountainous area, a tourist attraction and should be preserved. The spectacular Kinuseo Falls have a shear drop of 210 feet.

"There is also beautiful Kinuseo Lake. Some streams are teaming with trout and the mountain scenery is majestic. I am satisfied that if the Monkman Pass area were developed it would become one of the most popular parks in Canada. The Wood Buffalo Park is a park in name only.

"Whereas, some 13,675 square miles of Wood Buffalo Park is a federal park area lying within the borders of the Province of Alberta, and,

"Whereas, the development of the natural resources with Wood Buffalo Park cannot be carried out under federal park administration, and,

"Whereas, the original purpose of the park could still be served by designating the area as a "Buffalo Preserve" under strict game management, while also permitting the orderly development of forest and mineral wealth, for the people of Alberta and the Canadian economy.

"Therefore, be it resolved that this Legislative Assembly urge the Federal Government to return to the Province of Alberta control and ownership of that portion of Wood Buffalo Park lying within Alberta's borders."

GETTING SET FOR next election are Progressive Conservatives. Over 300 persons attended the nominating convention in the Jubilee Auditorium at which Terry Nugent, MP for Edmonton Strathcona, was re-elected by acclamation. Hon. Walter Dinsdale, minister of northern affairs and natural resources, addressed the meeting. Shown here are l-r seated) Terry Nugent; Eric Geddes, Association executive; (back row), Dr. Hugh Horner, MP for Jasper-Edson; Percy E. Page, Association president, and Hartley Bell, president of the nominating committee.

Don't throw that one leftover waffle out . . . freeze it! Next time you want a quick breakfast, pop the frozen waffle into the toaster adjusted to the "light" setting, let it come up twice and presto, a waffle as warm and crisp as if it were freshly baked.

If you get rid of envy you will be surprised to see how many nice people there are in your community.

Concert Delights Large Audience

'Phone Operator Calls Firemen, Saves Garage

THORHILD—An outstanding performance by a switchboard operator and a quick response by the Thorhild fire department recently saved a two-stall garage from being destroyed by fire.

When Mrs. D. Yachimec, who was at the switchboard, received word of the fire in M. Schroeder's garage and discovered that the siren did not work, she quickly managed to call up enough volunteers of the fire department through the 'phone, who responded immediately and the fire was put out before too much damage was done.

If the delay had been only a few minutes the building might not have been saved. It is believed that the fire started from an over-heated stove pipe.

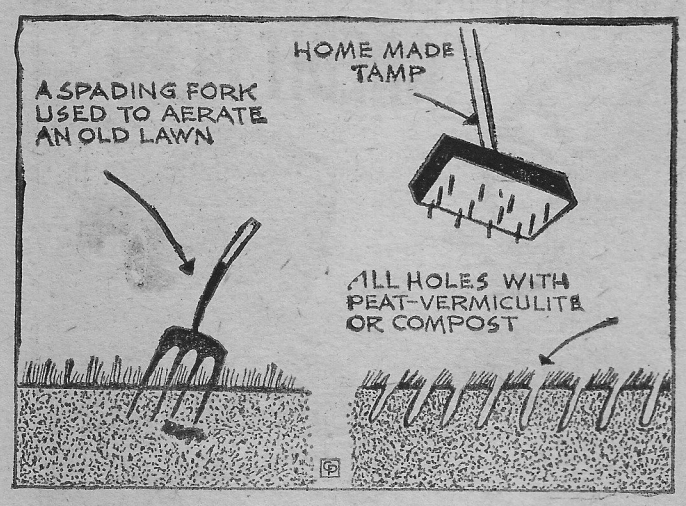
Garden Graph



Aeration of Old Lawns

April is the month most home owners become lawn conscious. After the lawn has been raked of over-winter debris it often looks slightly moth-eaten.

If it is an old lawn that has been good for a long time but now seems to be thinning out, perhaps the trouble is that the soil has become so compacted that air, water and fertilizer cannot reach the grasses' roots as it should.

This condition is frequently caused by rolling the lawn over the years with a heavy roller. Another cause is quick drying of the surface of the soil by hot sun following a heavy downpour. Constant walking over the lawn is another contributing factor.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, aeration will help a lawn suffering from compaction. There are many different types of mechanical aerators available for large lawns. They can be rented or a landscape man can be called in.

For the small lawn a spading fork can be used. Run it down into the soil a few inches and loosen the soil a bit by moving the handle of the fork back and forth. Repeat the process at right angles.

Another device is to drive 16-penny spikes through a 2-inch plank to which a handle has been attached.

Next topdress the area with vermiculite, peat moss or compost, plus a good lawn fertilizer,

New Athabasca County Council Holds Organizational Meeting

The first regular meeting of the county council, which is set by statute, was held on April 3, with all members present.

The report of the elections was given by Returning Officer B. Hart, and the oath of office was administered by A. Aloisio, L. R. Duplessis and Ed Loxam by Secretary-Treasurer Walter Leskiw.

The chairman and the secretary-treasurer were empowered to sign cheques, etc., on behalf of the county, and in the absence of the chairman, the deputy chairman may sign.

Discussion was held on the number of members on the municipal committee. This will be the same as last year, the whole council, and will not meet as a committee but as the council.

Discussion on the number of members on the school committee was not disposed of quickly. Most of the forenoon and part of the afternoon was taken for the discussion. The committee, finally agreed upon, included the county council in its entirety, plus a member from the Town of Athabasca and a member from the Village of Boyle, plus a representative from the LIDs. The school committee will appoint its own chairman at its first meeting. LID representative is W. R. Lafrance of Smith.

The hospital committee will have three representatives from the county: A. Aloisio, V. Breckenridge and M. Krajacic. All members of the county council will act as fire guardians, with the exception of Councillor Ed Parr, who was excused on account of his health. In addition, Roy Manasterski, Hans Armfelt, B. C. Hart, Harry Webb and Alex Konanchuk will act as fire guardians.

The finance sub-committee will consist of the council as a whole, with Jack Davidiuk as chairman. Health Unit representatives will be Councillors Duplessis and Parr, and the farm purchase board, which consists of one council member and two farmer members will be Councillor Weldon, and farmers Walter Klak and George Hague.

The court of revision will consist of five members: Aliosio (chairman), Weldon, Duplessis, Davidiuk and Loxam. The accident prevention committee consists of two members of the council: Loxam and Davidiuk, and Building Supervisor Brundridge and Shop Foreman Albert Brauer.

The agricultural service board will have two council members: George Weldon (chairman) and Joe Shimonichek, Walter Aleksiuk and Roy Manasterski, farmer members.

Jack Davidiuk and Ed Loxam were named as civil defence representatives. Hans Armfelt and Val Breckenridge were named alternates. Ed Loxam was named representative on the cemetery board, and A. Aloisio and Hans Armfelt to the parks board.

The date and hour of meetings will be the same as previously: 10 a.m. the Thursday following the school committee meeting.

After the appointment of the various committees, a discussion on public works was held. It was felt the county should group the equipment into three large groups to facilitate work during the summer, but no action was taken.
